

Search the web

Discover | Following | News | World News | Local | Personalize

Flight Attendant Reveals Hack To Finding Cheap Airline Tickets

Ad Travel Savings Tools

How To Borrow From Your Home Without Touching Your Mortgage

Ad LendingTree

Examiner-Enterprise

+ Follow

Herasoft unable to fulfill monetary obligations, seeks to sell historic building

Story by Andy Dossett, Bartlesville Examiner-Enterprise • 1w •

🕒 2 min read

The historic and former Washington County Courthouse located in Downtown Bartlesville.
© Andy Dossett / Examiner-Enterprise

Anthem Blanchard, CEO of both Herasoft and Anthem Vault Inc., declared in court documents dated April 1 that his company is financially insolvent and unable to fulfill any monetary claims, including significant back pay owed to former employees.

According to the documents obtained by the EE Friday, Blanchard was ordered in February 2023 to pay a settlement of $90,000 in a back pay claim from former employee Jason Carstensen. Carstensen, who was initially owed $126,000, had agreed to a reduced settlement.

Court documents reveal Blanchard failed to meet his obligations and was sued again in Washington County Court this year. In response, Blanchard said he doesn't have the money.

"Unfortunately, Anthem Vault, Inc. is currently unable to meet its financial obligations and is in the process of winding down its operations," Blanchard stated in his April 1 written response to the court summons. "As such, we regret to inform the court that the company does not possess the means to fulfill any monetary claims presented in the petition."

In the response, Blanchard even asked Court Clerk Jill Spitzer for advice on proceeding "in light of the company's financial circumstances," the documents say.

Carstensen claims Herasoft owes a handful of employees back pay.

During his employment with Herasoft Inc., Carstensen received his paychecks from Anthem Vault Inc. He claims that the two companies are, in fact, the same.

Herasoft moved its operations to Bartlesville in 2021 with a reported \$5 million round of series-A funding and a growing client list.

Blanchard claimed they had offices in Houston and Sao Paulo, Brazil, at the time.

He also was the executive officer of two now-defunct crypto-blockchain companies, Hercules SEZC and AnthemGold, both of which are facing multiple online accusations of fraud from customers.

Blanchard is also linked to 38 other companies, such as AMAGI Metals LLC, Anthem Bank Inc, Anthem Coins Ltd, Anthem Crypto, Anthem AU, AnthemDerivatives, AnthemDollar Ltd and AnthemGold Inc.

Further complicating matters, Herasoft Inc. is selling the building housing its Bartlesville headquarters, the historic and former Washington County Courthouse, for \$1.2 million.

Meanwhile, Anthem's wife Cynthia, owner of Price Tower and former president of Herasoft, is selling museum artifacts to address the tower's financial shortcomings.

Terms of UseAdvertise

Southern Industries

How Much Does This Gorgeous, 'Never-...

Ad

Learn more

Cynthia Blanchard previously said that Herasoft employees were part of the team taking ownership of the Price Tower.

Anthem Blanchard and Herasoft were unavailable for comment and phone numbers associated with Herasoft are no longer in service.

This article originally appeared on Bartlesville Examiner-Enterprise: Herasoft unable to fulfill monetary obligations, seeks to sell historic building

Sponsored Content

Ottoinsurance.com

Which American Cars Cost Less to Insure? (Find out Here)

Ad

Barefoot Vitality

Neurologists Amazed: Barefoot Shoes are The Best Thing You Can Do in 2024

Ad

More for You

APThe Associated Press

Trucker acquitted in deadly crash asks for license back, but state says he contributed to accident

19

11

APThe Associated Press

Steward Health Care says it is selling the 30+ hospitals it operates nationwide

7

5

USATODAY

Attorney shot, kill getting into fight customer at Hous

99

115

APThe Associated Press

The $230 billion donor-advised fund industry gets an IRS hearing

USATODAY

Miss Teen USA UmaSofia Srivastava resigns days after Miss USA Noelia Voigt step...

FinZen

"Saw My Account Grow Overnight," Users Describe Realistic Success with AI T

Travel Savings Tools

Flight Attendant To Fly Business Class Price of Economy

© 2024 Microsoft Your Privacy Choices Consumer Health Privacy Privacy and Cookies

https://www.msn.com/en-us/news/crime/herasoft-unable-to-fulfill-monetary-obligations-seeks-to-sell-historic-building/ar-AA1nJ8TX

3/6

AP The Associated Press

Michigan is the latest school to hire an in-house general manager for NIL

10 1

WP The Washington Post

Company fined $650K for hiring children to clean meatpacking plants

7

RA Rough Draft Atlanta

Powers Ferry, High Point mid-block crossing contracts awarded

1

F Fortune

Billionaire real est Barry Sternlicht sa expects at least o

58

- Headphones icon
- Like icon
- Dislike icon
- Comments icon
- Share icon
- More options icon

 Atlanta News First

+ Follow

8.2K Followers

Share icon

Significant damage left behind by overnight storms in Gilmer County

Story by Jennifer Lifsey • 1h • 1 min read

Significant storm damage on Ellington Road at Old HWY 5 in Ellijay.
© Atlanta News First

ELLIJAY, Ga. (Atlanta News First) - Gilmer County residents are waking up to damage caused by the overnight storms.

Severe weather rolled through and caused significant damage on Ellington Road at Old Highway 5 in Ellijay.

The area was under a tornado warning from around 10:45 p.m. until 11:15 p.m. It is unclear if the damage was caused by an actual tornado until the National Weather Service surveys the area.

LIVE UPDATES: Tornado watch issued until 1 p.m.

Adam Murphy

@AdamMurphyTV · Follow

#Breaking: More substantial storm damage in Ellijay on Old HWY 5 and Ellington Road. Live updates on @ATLNewsFirst.

4:29 AM · May 9, 2024

2

Reply

Copy link

Read more on X

FIRST ALERT WEATHER DAY | Storms expected through 3 p.m. Thursday

Gilmer County Schools is closed Thursday due to the severe weather, as a second round of storms was expected.

Gilmer County Schools

2 hours ago

The Gilmer County Schools will be closed today due to severe weather.

105

15

165

Return to Atlanta News First for updates on this developing story.

Related video: Storm-related damage reported in Darke County (WHIO Dayton)

Sponsored Content

More for You